CALIFORNIA WATER SERVICE COMPANY ANNOUNCES A PROPOSED DECISION IN ITS COST OF CAPITAL APPLICATION

SAN JOSE, Calif. — California Water Service Company (Cal Water), the largest subsidiary of California Water Service Group (NYSE: CWT), announced today that the presiding administrative law judge at the California Public Utilities Commission (Commission) has issued a proposed decision on the utility's requested authorized cost of capital for 2012 through 2014.

The Commission is expected to act on the proposed decision at its July 12, 2012 voting meeting; at that time, it may adopt all or part of the proposed decision, modify it, or prepare its own. The proposed decision establishes an authorized return on equity of 9.99% and cost of debt of 6.24%, with a capital structure of 46.60% long-term debt and 53.40% common equity. It sets the authorized return on rate base at 8.24%.

In addition, the proposed decision authorizes continuation of a Cost of Capital Adjustment Mechanism (CCAM), which provides for an adjustment in the return on equity if the cost of long-term debt, as defined by an index of utility debt rates, varies from the most recent index by 100 basis points or more in 2013 and 2014. It also closes the Temporary Interest Rate Balancing Account (TIRBA) adopted by the Commission in 2009 and authorizes a credit of $1,141,919 to be refunded to customers over a 12-month period. The TIRBA tracked the difference between interest costs projected in the 2008 cost of capital application and actually incurred costs.

"We are pleased that the proposed decision adopts the settlement agreement reached between all parties in late 2011. We believe it will be a fair outcome and will benefit customers by enabling us to attract necessary capital from investors to invest in water system infrastructure," said Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Peter C. Nelson.
